Brief Description:

This is a job search website for teenagers looking to make some extra pocket money. People from Hoboken can post chores or work that need to be done, and teens can apply to the jobs they are interested in.

Core Features:

1. Home Page:
   - Welcomes user to the platform and introduces the website.
   - Sign-up and Log-in buttons.
   - A search bar to search for jobs posted on the website.
   - A section that displays job titles of all the currently posted jobs along with their status, sorted by newest-first.
   - Clicking on a job title takes the user to the "Individual Job" page if they are logged in, otherwise it redirects to the sign-up/log-in page.
2. User Profile Page:
   - Displays personal information of a user:
     i. Name
     ii. Email ID
     iii. Age
     iv. Phone number
   - "Edit" button to edit personal information.
   - A section visible to only adult users that displays jobs currently posted by them.
   - "Edit" and "Delete" buttons beside each job let the user edit the job information or delete them.
   - Users can manually set status of currently posted jobs as "Open" or "Finished". When a job is set to "Finished", it is no longer displayed in the public jobs list and all applicants' information for the job is deleted. Setting it as "Open" will display it again.

- Clicking on a job title redirects them to the "Applicants" page for the job.
- "Create Job" button to create a new job.
- "Saved Jobs" section only visible to the teen users that displays their bookmarked jobs.

3. Create Job Page:
- The page is only visible to adult users.
- Users must enter the following information to create a job:
    i. Job Title
    ii. Job Description
    iii. Phone Number (auto filled if saved in profile)
- Newly posted job's status is set to "Open" by default.

4. Applicants Page:
- Each job has its own "Applicants" page that can be accessed by adult users of the website by clicking on a job title in the currently posted section of their user profile.
- The Page displays information about the job:
    i. Job Title
    ii. Job Description
    iii. Status of the job
- A section displays the list of applicants for the job. Clicking on an applicant's name downloads their resume.
- A "Hire" button beside each applicant's name lets the user decide who they want to hire. Once the "Hire" button is clicked for an applicant. The Job status is set to "Taken" and only the hired applicant is displayed in the list along with a "Fire" button.
- Clicking the "Fire" button displays all applicants again and job status is set to "Open".

5. Individual Job Page:
- Displays information about the Job:
    i. Job Title
    ii. Job Description
    iii. Status of the job ("Open" or "Taken")
    iv. Display Name of the Job post author
    v. Phone number of the Job post author
- "Save" button only visible to teen users, which bookmarks the job and is displayed in the "User Profile" page.
- "Upload Resume and Apply" button, that lets users upload their resume and automatically applies to the job and displays it in the "Applied Jobs" page. The button is only visible if a job status is "Open".
- A comment section where users of the websites can leave comments or queries regarding the job.

6. Applied Jobs Page:
   - Only visible to teen users.
   - "Applied" section where they can see a list of job titles they have applied to, along with the status of the job and a "Withdraw Application" button.
   - Clicking on the "Withdraw Application" button will remove the job from the user's "Applied Jobs" page and delete their resume from the job post author's "Applicants" page.
   - "Hired" section. If the user is hired for a job. The job title will move from the "Applied" section to the "Hired" section.
   - Clicking on a job title redirects user to the "Individual Job" page.
7. Home Page (Logged in):
   - Users can scroll through all the jobs posted.
   - Users can use the search bar to search for jobs.
   - Users can click on a job title to view the individual job page.
   - Users can comment on all individual job pages.
   - Users can upload their resume and apply for jobs.
